p. 1/63

Statistics Estonia guarantees the full protection of data submitted.

All insurance premiums receivable during the whole insurance period as of the month the insurance policy takes effect, irrespective of the subsequent premium payments, should be taken into account in the calculation of the amount of non-life insurance premiums in the report. According to the methodology applicable until 2018, the contributions for the respective month were to be reported monthly. If the insurance period is no longer than one year, it does not matter whether the payment has been received or not, neither is the date of concluding the insurance contract relevant – premium payments should be recorded in the questionnaire based on the date the insurance contract took effect.

Example. An insurance contract is concluded on 1 July 2020. The insurance premium for the insurance period 02 August 2020 to 01 August 2021 is 100 euros, which is paid quarterly in the amount of 25 euros. In August 2020, the insurance premium for the whole insurance period in the amount of 100 euros should be reported. If the insurance period is longer than a year, the insurance premium should be calculated until the end of the insurance period still in the reference period when the insurance contract was entered into.

Example. An insurance contract takes effect on 1 July 2020, the insurance period ends on 30 June 2021. The insurance premium of 300 euros should be paid annually. The insurance premium for this insurance policy should be reported for the whole insurance period in the amount of 300 euros in July 2020.

If the eventual insurance premium is determined during or at the end of the insurance period, it is reported in the period where the insurance premium was ultimately determined. If an advance payment has been made, it should be reported in the period when it was determined. Later, when the eventual premium is determined, the difference between the advance payment and the eventual premium, or the set-off amount, should be reported. In other words, events that happened in the reference period should be recorded: changes in the premium in the insurance period should be reported when the supplementary premium was decided in the case of set-off. If the insurance contract is cancelled during the insurance period, the reimbursements should be reported in the month of cancellation. Each insurer uses its own methods for calculating the reimbursements.
